

Minor hockey week - Jan. 16 to 24

Glenn Harms
Elk Point Minor Hockey

The 1993 version of Minor Hockey Week will kick off with an Atoms Tournament on January 17 and 17 and conclude with a Micro Novice Tournament on January 23, plus a full slate of games on January 24.

At the point of writing, there are a total of thirty four games scheduled so far for Minor Hockey Week, which is easily a record for the fast growing Elk Point and District Minor Hockey Association, one of the most successful and progressive systems in the province. With a philosophy based on fair play and equal ice time, Elk Point is known throughout the province as an excellent hockey system for the players. A full report in next week's paper will be available with a special section featuring the many teams, coaches and sponsors.

To add to the excitement of Minor Hockey Week in Elk Point, Minor Hockey President Al Pankiw announced that Elk Point has been awarded the 1993 Midget "C" Hockey Championships for the second year in a row. The announcement caught the membership by surprise and came about as a result of last year's highly successful hosting of the championships by our community. Committees have already been formed to prepare for the games which are scheduled for March 19, 20 and 21. This championship will require the support of our community once more but the benefits will greatly outweigh the effort to host the games. For more information on the championships or on Minor Hockey Week, contact Al Pankiw at 724-2250 or any member of Elk Point Minor Hockey.

The big year wraps up

The 1992 Bicentennial of Fort George - Buckingham House has been a long and exciting year for all involved in the planning and carrying out of events. The final report on the Bicentennial is scheduled to be released at a wrap-up meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. on Wednesday, January 13 in the Empress Banquet Room. Please note the starting time, which had earlier been published in the Community Calendar as 5:30 p.m. All interested individuals are welcome to attend the wrap-up to hear the Bicentennial Society report on their very large project just completed.

BI CENTENNIAL

BOOST FOR OILMEN'S BONSPIEL - Elk Point Oilmen's 10th Annual Bonspiel received a welcome boost from Pan Canadian Petroleum this past week, when Bryan Campbell (right) presented Bonspiel Committee members Lyle Yerama (centre) and Russ Hebblethwaite with $2000 toward start-up funding. The Oilmen are expecting 48 rinks for their 'spiel at the end of January, and have targeted their profits toward the youth element of Elk Point, which gave Pan Canadian the incentive to assist in the initiative.

Local 649 winner $2.3 million richer

Wayne McKenzie of Elk Point is $2,396,507.20 richer after picking the winning numbers in the Dec. 30 Lotto 649 draw. Wayne bought the ticket at the St. Paul Co-op's ticket centre and found out the good news when he checked it at Tags in Elk Point.

Tags' assistant manager Nigel Lafrance said he was "shocked" when the numbers came up winners. "I wish it would have been me."

Wayne couldn't be reached for comment but, according to Lafrance, he seemed to take his good fortune in stride. McKenzie's win will officially be announced this afternoon in Edmonton.

Prize bucks deadline Friday

Those lucky people who won Elk Point Bucks in the Christmas Extravaganza have just three days to finish spending their prize money. The Elk Point Bucks may be spent at any of the participating businesses until the close of business on January 15, after which the completed forms must be returned to Chamber President Millie Orr at Millie's Flowers and Crafts or Treasurer Vicki Brooker at the Review.

The Chamber was fortunate to have retail businesses taking part in Extravaganza promotions this year, as well as thirteen other sponsors. The last donor on the list was Amoco Canada, whose contribution arrived after the Extravaganza material had gone to print. The good financial backing helped the Chamber's Special Events Committee to spearhead a well attended and memorable event.

Annual Meeting

The 1993 Annual Meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce has been confirmed for Wednesday, February 3 at 6 p.m. in the Empress Banquet Room. Guest speakers will be Rob Miller of Alberta North and Prosecuting Attorney, who will speak on NSF cheques.

Sid Holthe and Mark Wilson will be going over the Chamber Bylaws prior to the Annual Meeting, with a view to refining these for approval before making application for Society status. Input regarding changes should be brought to the January 20 Chamber meeting at the Hilltop Cafe.

The Lakeland Tourist Association is also having an Annual Meeting in Vermilion on January 16. Billie Milholland and Vicki Brooker will attend as the Chamber's representatives. The Chamber agreed to nominate Ms Milholland for another term as a LTA director in the coming year.

The Chamber has just received a videotape on the GST which should be of interest to members. To borrow this tape, contact Victor Stepa at Elk Point Insurance.

The Chamber's computer, which is now located at the Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, is now connected to I-Net and is up and running. Louise Crane has been well briefed on its operation and said that information is now coming in. She will be posting periodic reports on the contracts being tendered, at the Town Office for easy access by local businesses. Those requiring information on specific categories of tenders can obtain these for a nominal fee to defray the I-Net cost, by calling Ms Crane at 724-2611.

The Interpretive Centre will be hosting several conferences in the near future, and promotional items suitable to put in "goodie bags" are needed. Anyone who would like to promote their business in this way may call Ms Crane at 724-2611.

The Alberta Chamber of Commerce has sent notification of their Annual Meeting, which is to be held in Vermilion in May.

Stork beats deadline

Elk Point's 1993 New Year's Baby was delivered just in time to have his arrival included in this week's issue.

The tiny son of Ruby and John Babcock of Elk Point made his debut somewhat ahead of his scheduled date, at 7:03 a.m. on Monday, January 11 and was whisked off to Edmonton by a neonatal team. Reports Monday afternoon indicate that the infant is doing well.

LEGION AWARDS - Helen Moneta of the Elk Point Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, recently presented awards to these winners in the annual Remembrance Day Poster, Poetry and Essay Contests: Posters - Grade 4, Danny Wentworth, 1st, Jennifer Flanders, 2nd, Dawn Dale, 3rd; Grade 5, Travis Brown, 1st, Taralee Babenek, 2nd, Levi May, 3rd; Grade 6, (colored) Aleisha Birkett, 1st, Michelle Hutton, 2nd, (black and white) Clinton Maksymec, 1st, Kimberley Wilson, 2nd; Poetry - Grade 4, Tanya Pankiw, 1st; Grade 5, James Purdy, 1st, Amanda Frisby, 2nd; Grade 6, Aaron Young, 1st, Andrea Myshaniuk, 2nd; Essay - Grade 5, Peter Danyluk, 1st, Dustin Sieben, 2nd.

Friends, Historical Society meet next week

Two meetings which missed the deadline for the January Community Calendar are Friends of Fort George - Buckingham House at 7:15 p.m. on Wednesday, January 20 (this meeting was originally slated a week earlier but was changed because of the Bicentennial Windup), and Elk Point Historical Society Annual Meeting on Thursday, January 21 at 7:30 p.m. The Friends meeting will be held at the Elk Point Public Library.

The Elk Point Historical Society Annual Meeting on January 21 will be held in the Empress Banquet Room and begins at 5 p.m. with dinner. The business meeting will begin at 6 p.m., with a guest speaker Michael Lang of Lac La Biche Mission scheduled for 7 p.m.

The Historical Society is in need of a Secretary and a Treasurer for the coming year, and anyone wishing to put these talents to work would be most welcome.

Editorial

Well it was cold!

As with most Albertans, my chief topic of conversation is the weather. Now, we've had some mean temperatures in the past couple of weeks, especially that wicked bash just after Christmas - so, like the "Royal Canadian AirFarce," dare I say - it was cold! And with it came the usual problems. Which I am not going to list, since you all know them even better than I. I sympathize.

Looking at the positive side, it gave me time to read over all my Christmas cards and letters again, and more deeply absorb what they contained. I've left the lovely gifts, which are so much more than just things, where I can touch and admire them again, and think of the persons who cared enough for me to deliver them to my keeping. Here is a family photo, beautifully framed; here the little owls and birds my family know I adore; here the memento gifts from far away places, to remind me for years to come, of those who brought them for my pleasure. Thank you, all.

Have you noticed how much longer it takes to pack away all the little Christmas decorations than it did to bring them out? I'm slower each year, and no one should be surprised to see some Christmassy ornament perched in my window or hanging overhead long after the Season To Be Jolly is but a memory.

This morning I've looked from my window out over the pristine snow, unmarked by ski trails or footprints, except the scurry trails of the red squirrels and the partly obliterated tracks of - what? A stray dog? A wolf? A very large coyote? - some creature that walked in the fresh snow, skirting the old barn, then down through the yard to check out the bird feeders, back across my step and down my now-obliterated ski trail, into the old School Yard and away. When it warms a bit, I shall follow this trail again. Meanwhile, I don't mind if this wilderness creature treads my trails. He has as much right to them as ever I do.

There were a few milder days, just after the New Year came into being, but I was busy melting snow, waiting for my water pipes to deliver precious aqua into my sinks again, and cleaning up the ensuing mess. Some time and much energy went into shoveling the walks and clearing off the porches, burning my garbage and such. Being a 'chicken' I can only stay out a short while when it's so chilly, so it takes a long time to do what must be done.

Thank you again, Country Snowplow operator! Probably, without your help, I could not remain here in my home over the winter. Which is where I want to be.

I now have a number of grosbeaks coming to my feeder; perhaps only eight or nine. They seem to cheerfully hang out together, the red Pine Grosbeaks and the yellow Evening Grosbeaks, even picking from the feeder together. Chickadees are so touchy, no two ever feed together; one flies off as the next approaches.

I seem to have two resident red squirrels this winter; usually there is only one, until spring, when more wander in. Although well fed, both look rather scruffy.

The evergreens in my yard are generously loaded with snow, a good sign, as it means faint winds to drift and hassle the white stuff around.

The other trouble with cold

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

weather is, for many, that we have more time to listen to the news of the world, in all its dreary, warring, hateful details. One of the tragedies of our time is the concept of culture. Whoever invented that, I wonder? Somehow, whole countries full of people get to worrying about their culture, and sweating over whether someone is stepping on its toes. To counteract this transgression, so perceived, they deem it necessary and even 'right' to go out and kill whoever is seen to be messing in their so-called culture.

Who in all the world REALLY believes it matters what language, or dress, or soup, or color people come with? It does not matter if we dress or eat or speak differently, if we are tall or short, black or white, or any shade in between. All these differences are only skin deep, mere trifles.

What really matters is kindness, helpfulness to others, to help one's self; to keep the earth in the best shape we can, not depleting the resources on and in it, that we all need. To love each other.

It would be great if all people spoke a common language - as well as their own "culturally specific" language; we could share so much better. All so-called 'cultures' should treat all their citizens as REAL people, men, women and children, worthy of food, shelter, medical care when needed, and decent respect as human beings...not as slaves.

ALL peoples of the earth should be free to follow whatever religion they choose, as long as by doing so they are not injuring others,

What happens at the Forts in winter?

Louise Crane

Fort George - Buckingham House

No, we have not closed our office! We have been working on developing a wonderful summer package, visiting hospitals and schools with educational programs, and holding seminars at the Centre. It sounds busy, and has been just that.

On December 29, Frank Mayner gave a tour to people from Australia and a home study group. Thank you, Frank. Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre is open on demand; meaning...if you have groups visiting town this winter (for curling bonspiels, hockey games etc.) we will open for you. The roads are plowed regularly, so it is easy to access.

Fort George - Buckingham House also has INET and WPIN on the computer system. Business tenders can be found on these systems. This service is available to members of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce only.

FEBRUARY 13 - Winter Madness and Trappers' Ball

1 p.m. - 4 p.m. - Join us at the Forts for a variety of winter games and fun. Bring your cross country skis and snowshoes.

6 p.m. - Trappers' Ball at the Elk Point Seniors' Centre, $15 per person, $40 per family. Tickets available at the Forts and from Friends Of The Forts.

FEBRUARY 18-20 - Native Women's Weekend

Healing through rediscovery of culture.

As the Forts were a place where culture changed, we are hosting two days of activities toward cultural rediscovery. Keynote speaker and female elder Linda Eagle Speaker will talk on healing plants and spiritual healing. This conference is free to Native and Metis women. Space is limited, please register early. Sponsored by Kehewin and Frog Lake Health Centres.

Bridget Montgomery

We all struggle with tough problems from time to time. Sometimes it seems as if no one understands or as if there is no one to talk to without feeling uncomfortable.

Welcome to ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW, a bi-weekly column written for teens who have concerns, problems or personal conflicts. By writing to ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW you can ask for help to resolve a personal issue anonymously. I will give information and suggest options.

I welcome all letters. People can write to me about problems or respond to previous columns. I will often share a question that someone has written to me for readers' suggestions. Peers sharing information and giving each other support can be very helpful. I have a high regard for your own experiences and knowledge and hope to be able to use your suggestions to problems... I may also ask other professionals such as doctors, teachers or counselors for their answers to questions.

I have chosen to start this column by selecting two letters written by students in a CALM 20 course. Keep in mind that these letters are not necessarily from Elk Point students. The Elk Point Review is distributed to many communities and letters may come from students in these communities as well.

Dear Bridget

I've been going out with my girlfriend for several months and my friends are bugging me because I haven't gone all the way with her. I like her a lot but I don't want to have a sexual relationship with her. Am I normal? What witty thing can I say back to my friends?

Dear...

Yes, it is normal to like someone and not want a sexual relationship. You and your girlfriend are obviously comfortable with your relationship but you are being challenged by your friends to do something you are not comfortable with.

Friendship involves acceptance, respect and support. Perhaps you need to look at the value of your friendships and decide what influence you want them to have in your decisions and behavior. I'm sure it is hard to maintain the "cool image" and to be "part of the group" when your ideas are different. A clever retort would be convenient but would it really work?

Remember that people who stand by their values are respected. Knowing yourself and being yourself will give you strength that other people will recognize.

This may take time but the results will eventually be in your favour.

Dear Bridget,

Some of my classmates are cheating on school exams, not just to pass, but to get the highest mark. Should I be a nerd and tell or keep it to myself?

Dear Readers,

This column is about helping. We can all help each other. If anyone has any suggestions for this person, please write to me so I can share them in this column.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW is for teens to talk about problems that they're facing. All correspondence will be presented confidentially. Please send all letters to ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW, c/o Elk Point Review, Box 309, Elk Point, TOA 1A0.

Death and Deliverance: The haunting true story of the Hercules crash at the North Pole by Robert Mason Lee. On October 30, 1992, a Canadian CC-130 Hercules military transport aircraft was carrying diesel fuel and personnel from Greenland to the top-secret Alert listening post on Ellesmere Island. The pilot, Capt. John Couch, spotted the airfield lights at Alert and decided to land visually, rather than relying on his instruments. The Airplane crashed in the most isolated habitat in the world, the last ice-blasted spit of land before the Pole, 450 miles to the north. Survivors and rescuers alike found themselves in a life and death battle against the elements. Their story is a saga of human endurance, and a deeply moving discovery of human spirit.

Alberta Parks - Our Legacy celebrates 60 years of provincial parks, and the myriad of plants and animals that live in them. It also pays tribute to the many dedicated citizens and parks personnel who helped shape the political will to protect these and other natural heritage landscapes including the national parks and wilderness areas. World class photographers have captured the beauty of the province's diverse landscapes, flowers and animals.

The Diabetic's Total Health Book - the authors, June Biermann and Barbara Toohey show how to improve your diabetes care by controlling stress, how to enjoy a variety of delicious meals, how to use exercise for mental and physical well-being, and how to enrich the quality of your life with travel, pets, laughter and hug therapy.

"Service is our motto"

VICTOR STEP & LARRY DEMCHUK

Deep in our hearts there's a picture,
More precious than silver or gold.
Tis a picture of a dear son and brother,
Whose memory will never grow old.

Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame, I shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best,
Sadly missed.

Loving and kind in all his ways
Upright and just to the end of his days
Sincere and kind in heart and mind
What a beautiful memory he left behind.

Today recalls sad memories
Of our dear son and brother gone to rest.
And the ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.
Four years today our brother and son was called
To his eternal rest.

Gone where the angels sing so sweet
And taken when God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh,
Where no one says good-bye.
Sadly missed by your mom Josephine, your brother Jim,
your sister Joanne, your step-father Alex, your uncle Andy.

In Memoriam

BODNAR, John Stan

In loving memory of my dear son, John Stan Bodnar, who passed away on January 14, 1989.

Four years has gone by today son,
I was always happy to see you stop by every morning for coffee before you went to work
Then you would also stop by in the evening
I miss that very much.

Son I miss your phone calls
You used to phone me every day
You never missed a day to call and see How I was.

Son I miss your happy smile.
Son you have achieved so much in so little time
No one has ever done so much as you have son in so little time.

I am very proud of you son
I was always proud of everything you did so well.

Son you were so kind, true, loyal helpful and understanding.

Son you mean the whole world to me, there will be no one else to take your place.

Son you don't know how much I miss you. I think of you every day. You will always be in my mind forever.

Very much missed by your loving Mom, Josephine Bodnar.

Wouldn't it be a wonderful New Year's gift, to have that elusive Peace On Earth we've heard about so often?

So, what else is new? There seems to be nothing I can change, or any of us, so we must accept whatever befalls. For myself, I hope to enjoy the last quarter century of my life, just as I have the first three quarters, thankful I landed in Canada, wherever I started from. Thankful for life, blue sky, friends, family and whatever else I shall be allowed.

ELKS DONATE TO FGM LIBRARY - F. G. Miller Junior - Senior High School Librarian Denise Amyotte was pleased to accept a recent donation from the Elk Point BPO Elks Lodge, presented by Lawrence Pidluzny. The funds went toward books and software for the library computer. The Elks are among a number of generous donors who have helped to alleviate a shrinking library budget by the contribution of cash, materials and a much enjoyed author reading.

FGM Library benefits from donations

A new year is upon us, so what better time to thank all those who contributed (in every way, big and small) to the level and quality of reading material here at F.G. Miller High School. On behalf of all the students and staff - THANKS A MILLION.

The dreaded money crunch was eased by the numerous monies and book donations from individuals and institutions. Listed below are just a few of those warm of heart:

- Mr. Marvin Bjorstad, who in 1992 donated a wealth of books to increase our fantasy / science fiction section.

- Mr. Ron Onusko for always thinking of the students and donating both fiction and non-fiction books.

- The Elk Point Public Library for their donation of Almanacs and locating special materials via their system. Thanks for sponsoring author readings, it is greatly appreciated.

- The Elks and Mr. Lawrence Pidluzny for remembering our need and supplying the library with a generous donation of $400 which will go toward books and software for the library computer. Your generosity will help the students enter the age of CD-Rom learning.

- The Northern Lights Library System for their donation of Canadisk, a CD-Rom disk with information on Canada. A special thanks for sponsoring Mrs. Mary Woodbury's author reading. Mrs. Woodbury's presentation was well received by the Junior High students. She gave the students insight into character development and relating / translating personal experiences into creative writing. Mrs. Woodbury, a Canadian writer living in Edmonton, presented these ideas in the form of two books, Where In The World Is Jenny Parker and Letting Go.

- Thanks to all of you who came out and supported the Book Fair held in November. Your support enabled us to receive approximately $200 worth of free books. Special thanks to Elaine Bjorkman for all her help.

- Lastly, a special thanks to all those who donated one or two books to us throughout 1992. Because of those individuals' thoughtfulness, we have a rounded collection of material that has enriched our library.

NATIONAL NON-SMOKING WEEK

January 18 to 24, 1993

Preventing our children from ever starting to smoke is one of the most important things we can do to achieve a new generation of non-smokers by the year 2000, according to Gloria Campeau, Chairperson of the North East Chapter of the Alberta Council on Smoking and Health.

The theme for National Non-Smoking, January 18-24, 1993 is Working Together for a Smoke Free Tomorrow. As parents, educators, health providers, political leaders and media, we can influence our children to be smoke-free. We are teaching our children that tobacco use is a dangerous health practice. As a result, many children have already chosen a non-smoking future, but we must stop making tobacco readily accessible to children if we are going to live up to our responsibility.

Each day in Alberta, eight persons will die from tobacco-related causes and 28 children under the age of 16 will enter the tobacco market to take their place. Tobacco will kill more of these children than AIDS, murder, suicide, car accidents, alcohol and other drugs combined.

The message to adults is simple: show children you understand the truth about tobacco and its addictive nature. To do this, adults must: never send children to the store to buy tobacco; support stores that refuse to sell tobacco to minors; support legislation that would increase penalties for the unlawful sale of tobacco to minors; and support by-laws that would eliminate smoking in public places.

Help your children grow up in surroundings that say, "Smoking is NOT O.K."

The children in the Smoke-Free Class of 2000 are now in Grade 5. As an activity for National Non-Smoking Week, students in Grade 5 in the North Eastern Alberta Health Unit area are being invited to write letters to their local newspaper airing their views on their community's policies for clean air and smoke-free spaces.

Membership in the North East Chapter of the Alberta Council on Smoking and Health is open to interested individuals or agencies. For more information, contact Gloria Campeau at the Bonnyville District Office of the North Eastern Alberta Health Unit 826-3381, or call your local health unit office.
